ROBERT SCOTT IS DEAD

Prominent Pioneer Succumbs Today

ONCE POLITICAL LEADER

Dies at La Crosse Hospital After Suffering With Cancer of Stomach

Robert Scott, one of La Crosse's earliest and most prominent settlers died this morning at the La Crosse hospital at 10:30 after a lingering illness with cancer of the stomach.

Robert Scott was born in Ireland on the July 22, 1838. At the age of 12 he came to America with his parents and settled at Lily Statoin, Cambert county, Pa.

They decided to come west and in the fall of 1857 they settled in La Crosse. When the Civil war broke out Mr. Scott enlisted in the La Crosse guards in 1861, and afterward became a member of Company B. He served three years with the company, but was severely wounded at the battle of Gettysburg and was mustered out May 18, 1864, because of total disability.

He returned to La Crosse and in 1882 was elected sheriff of La Crosse county, serving two terms.

In 1889 he was eletced postmaster.

Mr. Scott has also ben a member of the common coucil. He was in good health until last year, after he and Richard S. Scott, his brother, had started on a southern trip.

While in Loiusiana his health gave way completely and the rest of the trip did but little good.

Those who survive him are a son, A. R. Scott, a daughter, Mrs. John Paul, two brothers, W. J. Scott and R. S. Scott and one sister, Mrs. John Davis of Oregon, also a nephew, John Scott.

The body is at the hospital where it will remain until it is embalmed, then will be taken to the residence of W. J. Scott. From there it will be taken to the Masonic Temple where it will remain until the funeral which takes place Friday afternoon at 2:30, Dr. Thomas and Rev. Fowler officiating.

Interment will be made in Oak Grove cemetery. Tillman Bros. in charge.

OVERHEATED OVEN CAUSES BAD FIRE

La Crosse Baking Company Suffers Loss of Several Hundred Dollars

Central department was called out a little after 12 o'clock today to extinguish a blaze in the La Crosse Baking company's plant at 309 South Third street.

Several sacks that were hanging over the oven which extends into the barn caught fire from the overheated oven, the blaze eating into the barn.

Several hundred dollars worth of flour was stored in the barn, this being damaged mostly by water and smoke.

The loss is estimated at $1,000 with a small amount of insurance.

ROBBERS ESCAPE WITH $1,000 OF BRICKLAYERS'

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11.—Robbers blew the safe of Bricklayers' hall this morning and secured over $1,000 and escaped.

REBATES COST THEM $60,000

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11.—The Alton and two former officials, John N. Faither and Fred Wanna, were fined in the aggregate, $60,000 today by Judge Landis in federal court. It was charged that they paid Swarzchild & Sulzberger, packers, $13,400 in rebates. These were fines for six separate offenses, two against each defendant.

The corporation was fined $40,000 and the officials $10,000 each. Notice of appeal was filed.

MAYOR SCHMITZ PURGING FRISCO

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 11.—Mayor Schmizt announced he has demanded the resignation of all police commissioners and that if they are not received by tonight he will declare the positions vacant.

He is determined to clean the city government and will start in the departmnet of public works next.

ARRESTED BECAUSE HE WANTED TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

OYSTER BAYA, N. Y., July 11.—A man claiming to be a government employe was arrested while trying to hire a rig to drive to Sagamore Hill. He said he came to see the president on important business. He grew facetious when arrested.

GRAND JURY BAFFLED BY TRICK OF STANDARD OIL MONOPOLY

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

CLEVELAND, O., July 11.—The Standard Oil investigating grand jury adjourned until Monday, baffled by developments which may end the proceedings here. There was a lively tilt between rival witnesses and nearly a fist fight.

FELL TO EARLY LIFE OF SHAME

Young Girls Who had Rooms Over Saloon Sent to Training School

County Judge Brindley shook his head gloomily when he sentenced 16-year-old Hazel Johnson to the Milwaukee reformatory for girls. She was a chum of Bertha Childers, also aged 16, who was sentenced to the same place yesterday, for incorrigibility.

It was learned by the authorities that the girls had engaged rooms over the Palm Leaf saloon on North Third street and that the "fesitvals" participated in by them in that vicinity were shocking. While the gilrs were scarcely large enough to wear long skirts, it is said that they were accustomed to engage in orgies that would have made Architect White of New York stare in amazement.

ESCH TO ATTEND ADAMS' FUNERAL

MADISON, Wis., July 11.—The funeral of Congressman H. C. Adams will be held tomorrow afternoon, private services being held at the home in Wingra park at 2 o'clock and public service at the Congregational church at 3 o'clock. The honorary pallbearers will be Senator La Follette, William F. Vilas, W. R. Bagley, Hugh Lewis, R. M. Bashford, E. W. Keyes, W. D. Hoard, P. L. Spooner, W. A. Henry, A. L. Sanborn and W. C. Stone. The active pallbearers will be George P. Miller, Grant Thomas, A. S. Mitchell, S. B. Todd, M. S. Dudgeon, A. R. Ames, I. P. Ketchum and M. S. Klauber.

Congressman John J. Esch will leave tomorrow for Madison to attend the funeral of Representative Henry C. Adams.

Representative Tawney of Winona also will attend.

MORE EXTORTION BY ICE TRUSTS

KANSAS CITY, Mo, July 11.—That two profits are made on ice sold to the people of this city was brought out yesterday in the hearing of the trust cases before Commissioner W. S. Flourney. The admission was made by J. J. Heim, president of the Kansas City Breweries company. The breweries company is a stockholder in the People's Ice, Storage and Fuel company, an alleged member of the trust. Mr. Heim said the breweries company made artificial ice, which is sold to the distributing company at $2 a ton, and received a share of the second profit when the ice was retailed to the consumer at $10 a ton.

Mr. Heim said $1.30 a ton is a fair estimate of the cost of making artificial ice.

MANILA POLICEMAN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 11.—The Wisconsin insurance investigating committee met today, but no testimony was taken.

WOMAN LURED OFF; SLAIN FOR MONEY

Ellsworth Milliner Sold Her Store to Wed and is Found Dead

(Special Tribune Dispatch.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 11.—Robbery, the police declare, was the motive for the murder of Miss Nellie Ellison of Ellsworth, Wis., in a hotel in this city yesterday.

It is learned today that she sold her millinery business at Ellsworth and cashed the draft Monday.

They are positive she had the currency with her in the hotel. The police theory is that Wilson is a name assumed by some one familiar with the woman's business, and who knew of her being in this city.

Ellsworth advices say Miss Ellison left there to marry a railroad conductor named Riggs and go to Washington state to buy a farm.

The murderer pounded her head almost to a jelly and then poured alcohol over her clothing over her clothing and set fire to and set fire to it. The girl's body was almost consumed.

GROOM SLAIN BY ANGRY FATHER-IN-LAW RETURNING FOR HIS BLESSING

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., July 11.—Joseph Vaughan, who was married without the consent of the bride's father, returned for his blessing today, and was shot dead in the presence of the bride by his father-in-law, Joseph Woods.

Woods escaped and fled ten miles. He resisted arrest and a deputy killed him.

DEFEATED CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR OF OMAHA ENDS HIS LIFE TODAY

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

OMAHA, Neb., July 11.—A. H. Hennings, the defeated candidate for mayor, committed suicide this morning by shooting.

ONCE FAMOUS AND RICH, DIES IN STABLE IN DIRE POVERTY

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch)

CHICAGO, Ill., July 11.—Joseph Manning, formerly a wealthy man, who led Guteau to the gallows, whose father-in-law is a wealthy man, died in a loft in a Chicago stable, calling for his wife from whom he separated, dividing his fortune upon discovery of her infidelity. He sunk to a stable laborer.

ADMIRALTY PAYMASTERS' OFFICE ROBBED AND OFFICIALS SHOT

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 11.—The admiralty paymaster's office was robbed by two men who shot the treasurer and two watchmen and took $12,000 and escaped.

"TEDDY" STOLE BRYAN'S CLOTHES

But Mr. Bryan Says What he Got Didn't Fit Him or his Platform

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, July 11.—A London cable says Bryan was asked the question:

"Is it true Roosevelt caught you in swimming and stole your clothes?"

Bryan said:

"He didn't get them all, and I doubt if what he did get will fit him."

Bryan says "it is hard, uphill work for Roosevelt to enforce the laws according to the needs of the people, because the platform upon which he was elected did not demand it. It is hard for him to manage the administration.

"If a democratic president is elected in 1908 he will be committed to the reform idea, the majority of congress will be on the same platform and the administration officers in harmony with the president."

WARRANT FOR BIG DEALER

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—True to his promise that he would go after the "big fellows," District Attorney Bell yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of Henry Behrenberg, president of the Mountain Ice company, charging him with conspiracy. Mr. Behrenberg, it is confidently expected, will be tried with the thirteen other defendants who are at present under bail here under the same charge.

The president of the Mountain Ice company is located in Jersey City, but no difficulty is looked for on the score of extradition.

During the magistrate's hearing of the case against the ice men Arthur Freeston, secretary of the Philadelphia Ice Exchange, testified that Behrenberg had been present at at least one meeting of the exchange, at which, it is charged, the dealers entered into a conspiracy to monopolize the ice trade and raise prices.

Behrenberg's company, it is said, practically controls the output of natural ice in this and adjoining states.

LEAVES FOR ST. PAUL

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Noetzel and son Adelbert, left this morning for St. Paul in their Rambler touring car to look after the Rambler automobile interests enroute, of which Mr. Noetzel is the western Wisconsin agent. They will stay a week in the Twin Cities and return via Greenwood, Wis., and Aug. 1st he will again be actively engaged in the cigar business, associated with P. C. Wiggenhorn.

THAW INSISTS HE IS NOT INSANE

Calls in Newspaper Men to Answer Questions in Proof of Sanity

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

NEW YORK, July 11.—The district attorney's office is looking for the person telling the story that Thaw intended to kill White in the Hotel St. Regis a year ago.

According to a witness of the scene Thaw had a revolver in his hand to shoot White as he sat in the dining room, but refrained when he saw Mrs. White was with him.

Thaw is well and strong apparently, and received newspaper men this morning to show them he was sane. He certainly appears healthy and answered questions and discussed conditions intelligently.

He refused, upon advice of consul to discuss the merits of the case. He said he was sorry his mother is returning for he thinks she should have gone to Switzerland to take the baths for rheumatism.

ROGERS CLAIMS HE IS NOW CURED OF "GET-THE-MONEY" HABIT

NEW YORK, July 11.—H. H. Rogers, in writing to a friend recently concerning an offer made to him to participate in a new business venture, replied as follows, in dictating the proposal:

"If I ever was diseased with enterprise, I am now cured."

It was said in explanation that Mr. Rogers' disinclination to embark in any new business enterprise is due to the attitude of the present administration toward corporations of all kinds, including the Standard Oil company.

BIG EXCURSIONS TO COME HERE AUG. 8

Excursion Agent Walker of the C., M. & St. P. has arranged for big excursions to be run into this city Aug. 8th, from South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The noted Brookings, S. D., baseball team will be brought here to meet the champions of the state league, both teams then having an off date. Excursions will be brought over all western divisions of the road and it is estimated there will be 3,000 visitors here upon that day.

MURDERER SUICIDES

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)

TOWNER, N. D., July 11.—Abner C. Martin, charged with the murder of Conrad Pfister, July 4, committed suicile in jail here by taking poison.

"GEYSER" TEARS UP PAVEMENT

Big Water Main is Broken Today

TRAINS STOPPED ON VINE

Great Hole Undermined as Result of Fire Pressure's Work

The breaking of a watermain at the corner of Second and Vine streets at noon today, while the fire pressure was on hurled the pavement into the air like a volcanic eruption, undermined the street for an indeterminable space and stopped traffic over the main line of the Burlington.

Owing to a fire in the La Crosse Baking company's plant, the fire pressure was turned on at the pumping station, and almost immediately the watermain which runs along aecond street burst. A great column of water pushed the brick pavement up as though a volcano had suddenly become active beneath it, and after breaking through this obstruction the stream rose several feet in the air.

It was impossible to turn off the water while the fire lasted and as a result the entire corner was undermined, the pavement being held up by the concrete foundation. It is as yet impossible to determine the extent of the damage.

The basement of the Milwaukee house was flooded as were other basements in the vicinity.

President Beckwith and Commissioner Roberge of the board of public works went to the scene immediately and summoned the new pumping engine which is being used to take out the water. It is expected the cavity will be cleared of water by tonight.

The Burlington noon passenger was flagged in time to prevent a serious accident. Passengers for La Crosse were permitted to leave the train at Pine street, and it then proceeded back to Grand Crossing, and around the city on its way southward by way of the bluff tracks.

The Burlington at once sent a crew of fifteen men to the scene, together with two carloads of cinders, which will be used in filling np the cavity as soon as the break is repaired and the water is pumped out.

President Beckwith of the board of public works was unable to estimate the damage this afternoon. The city will repair it at once and trains can probably be run over the tracks there by tomorrow.

BIRD VIEWS SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS

Superintendent John P. Bird of the La Crosse schools, was on the North side this morning investigating the plans and specifications of the new addition which will be made on the North side of the Tenth war dschool. The plans have not quite been completed, but the architect expects to have them ready with an approximate estimate of the new addition by Friday.

The first addition suggested was to be on the west side of the building, but upon further investigation it was found that a much better building could be provided by making the improvement on the north side.

It provides fo ra large grammar room on the second floor, in which the seats will face south. The light will enter the room from the east. Another small room will be west of this and there will also be two rooms on the ground floor in addition to a small room for books, stationery, etc., thus making five rooms.

On the second floor the plans show that a large hallway will extend through the entir elength of the building from north to south. The closets will also be on the secon dfloor, a new arrangement which is being made in all uptodate school buildings, this saving much time and preventing the pupils from congregating in the basement.

It is not known as yet whether the small school on Wood street will be abandoned.

The school south of the Tenth ward building will be removed, however, and Mr. Bird stated today that in running through the minutes of the proceedings of the board he noticed that they had made three requests during the past fifteen years to have it moved.

The new improvement will be rushed through as soon as possible but it will no doubt extend sevreal weesk into the school year. Rooms will be provided elsewhere for the pupils during this time and they will lose no time.

POSTPONE PROPOSED EXHIBIT

A committee of the Manufacturers and Jobbers' union, which met last night, decided, owing to the difficulty to complete arrangements during the warm weather, to postpone the exhibit of the La Crosse made articles until after Sept. 1.

The committee announced that there was no eminent danger of the failure of the plan, but that all negotiations would be postponed until the resumption of the regular meetings.

This plan to show the people the merit and honesty of the La Crosse made goods was at first suggested by William Doerflinger.

SENSATIONAL KENTUCKY FUED AIRED IN COURTS

BEATTYVILLE, Ky., July 11.—The trial of Former Judge James Hargis and Edward Callahan, accused of assassinating Attorney J. B. Marcum in the famous Breathitt county feud, began here yesterday.

Attorney B. R. Jouett made the opening statement for the commonwealth and the things he said the state would prove were startling in the extreme. One incident he promised to prove was a plot for Tom White to shoot Marcum with a shotgun as he passed the Hargis store. Marcum passed by holding his baby in his arms. White, he said, was upbraided for not shooting and replied that he did not want to kill the baby. Hargis is quoted as saying: "Send the brat to hell with its daddy."

Attorney Jouett further promised to prove by James Mann and Asbury Spicer that Hargis tried to get them to kill Marcum, agreeing to give Spicer $500 to do the work. He declared Hargis feared that Marcum would be acquitted of a libel charge and that Curt Jett and Tom White were given their final orders for the actual assassination in the courthouse door, Hargis and Callahan looking on from in front.

The first witness was Mose Feltner, upon whose testimony the commonwealth depends largely. This was the first time Feltner has ever appeared as a witness in the case, as on the hearing of the damage action of Mrs. Marcum he was spirited out of the state.

Feltner told of many alleged plots against the life of Marcum, all of which, he said, were instigated by Hargis and Callahan, they agreeing to "stand by him." He said he had told Smith and Abner of an agreement he had made with Hargis and Callahan to kill Marcum, but later told the defendants that he would not go into the plot with B. F. French, who had been selected by Hargis as his partner in the contemplated crime.

Mrs. Abrelia Marcum, widow of the murdered attorney, was among the witnesses examined during the day. She told of the various times in which she saw Curt Jett, John Abner, John Smith, and Tom White lurking at various places near her home after Marcum had been warned by Feltner that they would be at those places for the purpose of carrying out the plot to kill him. Mrs. Marcum testified she had seen Smith, Abner, and Curt Jett enter and leave the house of Alex Hargis, where the window in one room was raised about six inches.

Attorney Patrick of Jackson testified that he saw Curt Jett enter the side door of the courthouse in Jackson and a few minutes later the shots were fired and Marcum fell dead in front of the courthouse.

Other witnesses examined by the prosecution were Kelley Kash, Henry Churz, and Mrs. Mury Johnson, the latter a sister of Marcum. They told of a previous attempt to assassinate Marcum near the stone quarry. Just at daylight the morning following the shooting she had walked near the stone quarry and saw John Abner, John Smith, Tom White, and Mose Feltner leaving with guns in their hands.

It was called to the attention of the court today that partisans of Hargis and Callahan were intimidating witnesses for the prosecution, causing some of them to leave town. The court announced that the intimidators would be severely dealt with if they continued such tactics.

BADGER ANTI-CIGARETTE LAW IS NOT OBSERVED

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 11.—Wisconsin's anti-cigarette law was a year old the first of the month, and at almost every place in the state can be found evidences of its ineffectiveness. The sale of cigarettes, expressly prohibited by the law, has not been cut out as was planned. It seems almost safe to say that as many people still smoke them as before the law was passed. It is doubtful even if the smoking of cigarettes by the small boys has been affected to any great extent.

Cigarettes are on sale in almost every large city in the state and, in fact, it is claimed they can be bought in any town of any size. At Superior both cigarettes and papers may be secured freely. Of course the dealers do not handle cigarettes openly, but they can be secured very easily, and the man who wants them does not have to go to Duluth, as was expected. Neither is the sale of cigarettes or the "makings" general in the city, but there are always enough on hand to supply the demand.

Some of the Superior dealers welcomed the anti-cigarette law, for the cigarette business was counted by them a nuisance. These dealers were only too glad to get rid of their stock and quit selling as the law provided. Put the men that do keep the goods on the quiet let them go to the people with the proper wink manage to reap quite a harvest.

In Milwaukee there has never been a time when cigarettes could not be secured. In most cities there were a few weeks after the law went into effect that the dealers fought shy on the proposition, but in Milwaukee the sale never let up.

In Madison the university students were able to smoke cigarettes to their hearts' content. When the college opened in the fall the students found dealers that were ready to furnish the goods. Then the officials stopped action for a short time and the boys were shy. When the crowds went away with the football team to Minneapolis and Ann Arbor thousands of cigarettes were purchased and taken to Madison. Students going to other states for their Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations were given orders for cigarettes or the "makings," while for the banquets and blowouts of the students thousands were sent into the city at different times.

Later the dealers thought they might just as well reap the harvest, so cigarettes became once more part of the stock of the cigar and tobacco dealers. The selling was not open, but it was not hard to get the "goods," and this is largely true of the situation all over the state since the law went into force.

TRY TO CHANGE RIVER'S COURSE

SALTON, Cal., July 11.—Confronted with a final washout within the next six weeks by the rapidly advancing waters of the Salton sea, the Southern Pacific company is now making every effort possible to turn the Colorado river back into its old channel which leads into the Gulf of California.

Forty miles of the company's transcontinental line is affected. Large gangs of men with teams and graders have been sent to Pilot Knob, a few miles this side of Yuma, and the construction of a nine-mile spur track branching from the main line at Pilot Knob leading down through Mexico and ending at the famous intake has been commenced. This track will be used for the transportation of material required to dam the flood at the intake.

The work of checking the flow at the intake where the Colorado river is rushing from its old channel into the Salton sink has been handicapped by its isolation from the railroad. Machinery and material needed to construct the dam and head gates had to be hauled nine miles by wagon or floated down the Colorado from Yuma.

It is proposed to run train loads of rock from the quarries near Pilot Knob and dump them into the intake, thus constructing the dam, which is intended to check the flow of the river in its rush into the Salton sea and to turn it back into the gulf. The opening to be closed is over 400 feet wide and a dam of a mile in length will be necessary.

With these transportation facilities those in charge of the work feel confident that they will be able to avoid another move of the Southern Pacific tracks. The time is short, however, in which to accomplish this feat.

There are people—many of them—living in this city who have never been in your store. Your store will not be completely successful as long as this is true, and it will be true until your advertising corrects it, as it will when it gets strong enough.

A Man of Prominence in School Circles and Overseer of the Poor Says Pe-ru-na Has Proven a Most Efficacious Remedy.

Herman Roese, 18 New Butternut St., Syracuse, N. Y., is President of the Board of Trustees of Webster graded schools, Dist. 8, in the town of Salina.

He is also Overseer of the Poor, which position has afforded him ample opportunity for noting the causes of disease, as well as the best means of preventing and curing the same.

He expresses his approval of the use of Peruna as a very effective means of solving a problem of such vital interest to the community, as follows:

"Exposure seems to affect the lungs and kidneys of the poor and I have seen hundreds of these who were brokendown in health from this cause.

"I am pleased to tell you that Peruna has proven a most efficacious remedy in a number of cases where no other medicine was used.

"I consider it a specific for any disorders of the respiratory organs."

NEIGHBORS KILL A WIFE BEATER

EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 11.—Oliver Bryant, a coal miner, while intoxicated last night tried to whip his wife, but her screams attracted the attention of neighbors, and they formed a mob, took Bryant from his home and beat him with clubs so severely that he died early this morning.

Warrants were sworn out for a number of men who participated in the attack upon him. A. J. Gleich, a farmer and fruit grower, was arrested and is in jail on a charge of murder. Harry Linville, a blacksmith, is also in jail on a similar charge, and others will be arrested. Gleich says that it was not the purpose of the mob to kill Bryant, but simply to punish him for beating his wife.

When Bryant's neighbors entered the house in response to the cries of his wife they found Mrs. Bryant unconscious from the beating she had received. As they entered Bryant's yard several of the men jerked pickets from the fence that surrounded the house and immediately began an attack on him. He fought for a few moments, though much under the influence of liquor, but soon was knocked down and beaten into insensibility. When found he was lying in the road in front of his house, but whether he was dragged there by his enraged neighbors or had crawled there is unknown.

There is much sympathy for the men under arrest, as it is known that they carried their attack to greater extremes than they intended, owing to the condition of Bryant's wife, whom they thought to be dead, and the fight that Bryant put up when they first entered.

WANTS MILLIONS FROM OMAHA

OMAHA, July 11.—The report of the board of appraisers appointed three years ago to appraise the plant of the Omaha Water company under an ordinance of the city council of Omaha declaring it necessary and expedient for the city to purchase the system of waterworks operated by the Omaha Water company was received this morning, and the plant is valued by the appraisers at $6,263,295.49. The amount of bonds outstanding on the Omaha water plant is $4,733,000.

Upon receipt of the report the water company made a formal tender of the plant to the city and also filed a petition in the United States circuit court demanding that the city complete the purchase at the price named. It is understood that the city officials will hold that the price is too high and that the report is not binding because it is not concurred in by all members of the board of appraisers.

BOY IS SHOT IN A STREET FIGHT

CHICAGO, July 11.—A revolver duel which was preceded by a fight with billiary cues at Fifty-fourth and Halsted streets last night between four newsboys ended when Charles Connors, 23 years old, had been shot in the back of the head and his brother, James Connors, 22 years old, suffered a deep cut in the head by being struck with a billiard cue.

The shot attracted the attention of the police of the Stockyards station and Charles Connors was taken to the St. Bernard's Hotel Dieu hospital, 6337 Harvard avenue, while his brother, Peter Gentleman and Maurice Enright, 21 years old, 5223 Emerald avenue, who did most of the shooting, were arrested.

Enright is alleged to have engaged in a wordy combat with the Connors brothers and their two friends. James Connors, the police assert, struck Enright in the face, knocking him down. Enright ran to the saloon of James Brodie, a few feet from the scene of the fight, and secured two billiard cues. When he attempted to strike Charles Connors the latter's brother seized one of the sticks and wrested it from him. A fight followed between the two young men with the billiard cues which resulted in James Connors being struck over the head and knocked down.

Fearing his brother would be killed, Charles Connors drew his revolver and fired five shots at Enright, none of which took effect. Enright returned Conor's fire and at the second shot and the latter fell to the ground unconscious. His skull had been fractured by the bullet, and at the hospital it is believed he will die. The police soon arrived and after a physician had dressed James Connors' head he was taken to the station with the other prisoners.

The unidentified boy who escaped is being sought by the police.

Trained Mare Traces Thief

JOLIET, Ill., July 11.—Zulky, a horse thief, was caught yesterday by C. E. Rogers, a Montana horse trader, through the use of a trained mare who, like a bloodhound, took the scent of the stolen animal and led the owner direct to him.

Rogers, with a herd of sixty horses, was camping near the drainage channel in Lockport, when he and his men were aroused early Sunday morning by uneasiness among the other horses. With a shout that he would soon have the thief, he mounted the mare, which promptly took the scent. For nineteen miles they went west, and finally the thief and the horse were sighted. Zulky, the thief, is 17 years of age, and lives near Lockport.

Rogers is on his way to Chicago Heights. He fairly worships the trained mare, which was brought up for the purpose of scenting stolen and strayed horses.

Boy Tramps Encircle Globe

Philadelphia, July 11.—"I ain't got a cent, but I'll be home in three weeks," said Guy Krumm, aged 15, of Danville, Ky., who arrived yesterday with two other boys on the American liner Friesland from a two years' tour of the world. The other two plucky specimens of young America were Otto Ford, 18 years old, of Seattle, and Glenn Howell of Atlanta, a relative of the publisher of the Atlanta Constitution.

It was in November, 1904, that the boys ran away. They met in Chicago and made their way to Seattle before shipping on the Marion Frazer for New Zealand. Ford and Howell shipped as able seamen, and Krumm, owing to his youth, was accepted as cabin boy. The boys sailed about 33,000 miles. Twice on their voyages they nearly starved.

THIS MAN SHAKES DICE FOR WIFE WHO CARESSES ANOTHER MAN

CHICAGO, July 11.—When your wife's affection toward you begins to wane and she ceases lovelorn glances at another, do not grab a revolver and rush out threatening vengeance on your spouse and her admirer. This was the old-fashioned rule, it is true, but Louis R. Adams has discovered a less injurious substitute. His plan is to go to the rival and suggest a game of dice. The hand and affection of the woman are the stakes. The cubes are rolled and the goddess of chance has the result in her keeping.

That this strange way of settling a threatened tragedy had been used by Adams and Louis Drake, 459 West Van Buren street, was disclosed yesterday in Judge McEwen's court, where Adams is seeking to have the divorce his wife obtained three weeks ago set aside. In keeping with the strange story of the dice game is the marriage ceremony between Adams and his wife, as described by the wife.

"We are to be married," she said, and Mr. Adams came to my house with a marriage certificate. He told me that as he had so much influence with the authorities it was not necessary to go to a justice. I believed him and hung the certificate on the wall."

After this marriage Drake, who is a storekeeper on the west side, appeared on the scene. That he and Mrs. Adams were friendly was told by Drake's mother, who caught them caressing each other in Drake's store. Mrs. Adams at that time was employed by Drake.

When Adams heard of this he was furious at first. Then he decided that the best way to settle matters would be in a peaceful fashion. He went to Drake and, according to the testimony, the dice game was arranged. Anna Taylor, 360 Marshfield avenue, vouched for the story.

"Mrs. Adams rushed into my store one night," she said, "and told me that she had begun divorce proceedings against her husband and that at that time he and Drake were across the street shaking dice for her hand."

Whether Adams won the game and now insists on his rights to his wife as being re-enforced by the dice game, or whether Mr. Drake won is not disclosed in the proceedings of the case. Judge McEwen had not reached that part of the testimony when court adjourned.

Another decree in the many suits brought by Mrs. Mary E. Eastman Oswald Eastman to determine her status was signed yesterday by Judge Healy in giving Raymond H. Eastman a divorce from his wife. There were two other suits and one which was supposed to have been begun, but which never figured prominently in the romance of Mrs. Eastman, who, it is said, will add another chapter by marrying Oswald for the second time. The story of the Eastmans reads like a modern version of Enoch Arden.

Three years ago Eastman, who was a railway clerk, disappeared from home. Nothing was heard from him until his mother informed his wife that he had obtained a divorce from her in a far western state. Believing she was free, Mrs. Eastman married William Oswald. Just at the height of their newly wedded bliss Eastman returned. But unlike Enoch Arden, he was not content to return to his solitude alone. He threatened prosecution, saying that he never had asked for a divorce. To avoid this Mrs. Oswald asked the courts to set aside her marriage and she became Mrs. Eastman again. Then Eastman applied for a divorce and yesterday Judge Healy granted it. Now it is said Mrs. Eastman will hasten to become Mrs. Oswald for the second time.

A husband whose "artistic sentiment" consisted of attending to his commission business and to getting intoxicated does not appeal to the ideas of Mrs. Mary L. Swanson, an artist at 298 Thirty-fifth street, and yesterday Mrs. Swanson was given a divorce by Judge McEwen.

If you marry a girl 16 years old be sure that she knows how to cook potatoes because if you don't your anticipated path of roses may conceal many thorns. This is the moral pointed out by Hugo T. Zaremba, 371 West Diversey boulevard, who put the finishing touches to an elopement of several years ago by getting a divorce from Judge McEwen.

Elbert L. Ashcraft applied to the circuit court yesterday for a divorce from Clara M. Ashcraft, who, he declares, has become enamored of Bascom Clarke. The Ashcrafts have two children, Albert, 12 years old, and Adeline M., 8 years old.

JUNIOR DOWIE CALLS VOLIVA HYPOCRITE; FATHER CRAZY

MUSKEGON, Mich., July 11.—Seated on the veranda of the magnificent summer home which has in the past yearly been the scene of the royal regime of the leader of Zion's hosts, Gladstone Dowie, son of "Elijah II," gave out some interesting statements about the recent turmoil in Zion City.

In the beginning, he blames Wilbur Glenn Voliva for all the excitement surrounding the deposing of his father. The former, he claims, had his head turned by the power placed in his hands when Elijah intrusted the flock to his care during a period of illness.

Striking the hand that fed him, Voliva circulated all sorts of untruths, Gladstone Dowie asserted, which, taken up by yellow journals, branded Elijah as polygamist, infidel and even worse. The story of the London actress Gladstone decries as a downright and malicious lie.

"My father is crazy," said the unkissed. "In his derangement he is incapable of maintaining an important position in a large enterprise. He is a good promter, but a poor business man. Voliva is a hypocrite, a liar and a traitor, and the majority of those in Zion City are a pack of hypnotized, brain-sick fools. Such a combination can never stand."

In regard to his being disinherited in his father's will, read today in Chicago courts, Gladstone Dowie tonight said: "I expected it, but it is no great disappointment to me. When the present cloud overshadowing Zion City clears away there will be no great sum of money to be given away in a will of my father's. I am well fixed, so no one need worry."

HEARST TO SUPPORT BRYAN IF HE CAN BIND HIM

NEW YORK, July 11.—W. R. Hearst's announcement in San Francisco that he will not be a candidate for the democratic nomination for president in 1908 has brought out a lot of gossip in this city. One report has it that the demonstration for Bryan at the Tammany Fourth of July celebration had considerable influence with Mr. Hearst, if it was not responsible for his decision.

It is also reported by the friends of Mr. Hearst that he intends to have a heart to heart talk with William J. Bryan as soon as the latter returns to this country.

This report is to the effect that Mr. Hearst will ask of Mr. Bryan a promise that if he is nominated and elected president in 1908 he will not in the distribution of patronage recognize August Belmont, William F. Sheehan, Alton B. Parker or any other prominent New York city or state democrat who was active in the national campaign of 1904. It is said that if Mr. Hearst obtains such a promise his newspapers will then begin by gradual degrees to advocate the nomination of Mr. Bryan for president in 1908.

"That Hearst should have attained importance enough even to deny that he will be presidential candidate is a public disgrace," said the evening Post this afternoon. "It is of itself a biting comment upon the extent to which vulgarity and indecency have made head in our politics. The idea of a yellow president would have seemed shocking to us all ten years ago. Now we breathe a sigh of relief that we shall not have one just yet.

"And the very manner of Hearst's renunciation is of the nature of an insult. It is as if he said: 'I know that the American people have become so hysterical and so venal that I could get the nomination by clamor and bribery if I seriously set about it and if my funds held out, but it doesn't seem to me worth trying this time.'

"And his apparent or temporary relinquishing of the greater prize implies redoubled exertions—meaning, in his case, redoubled paying out of money—to make himself governor of New York. The nation will look on with curiosity to see if the empire state will really suffer its highest honors to be purchased by such a man."

BURGLARS TOO ACTIVE FOR GUARANTEE

NEW YORK, July 11.—Because of the rapidly increasing number of burglars, sneak-thieves and pickpockets of a new class in New York, the United States Fidelity and Guarantee company has abandoned its burglar insurance business and will notify its patrons that upon the expiration of present policies they will not be renewed, and that no more insurance of this sort will be written in this city.

All told, the premiums paid on burglar insurance business in New York now amount to considerably more than $500,000 annually, and it is asserted by officers of various companies that it is a losing undertaking. It is expected that several other concerns may soon follow the course of the Fidelity and discontinue the burglary branch of insurance altogether.

In making this announcement officers of the Fidelity company said today they would abandon burglar insurance only in New York city. In other cities they will continue writing policies the same as before, because it is only in New York that the business of housebreaking and stealing has been developed to a point where losses are almost sure to verbalance the premiums.

WHITE SLAVES IN KENTUCKY CAMP

BEATTYVILLE, Ky., July 11.—According to the evidence furnished here yesterday, Frank A. Lyon, Jr., a local attorney, a frightful condition of peonage exists fifteen miles from here, whites and blacks suffering alike. The story was first revealed to Lyon by William Madison, a young negro, who has just arrived in Beattyville.

Madison charges that the owner of a large rock crusher visits large cities and makes alluring promises to both negroes and the poor white men, and when they arrive to work for him he forces them to work without pay.

Madison tells the following story of his own experience:

"I was offered $1.50 a day. The end of the first month they did not pay me. I worked another month and found that all the men were not receiving any pay.

"One negro from Richmond tried to get away. They caught him and beat him with a club. Bill Smith from Lexington and a man named Charlie from Cincinnati tried to get away and were whipped for it.

"I finally run away, but they caught me on the train and beat me. But the conductor would not allow them to take me off the train."

ATTORNEY IS INNOCENT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 11.—Testimony taken before Commissioner Matheny, who was appointed by the supreme court to take testimony in the case against State's Attorney Reaugh of Clay county, evidently was a surprise to Assistant Attorney General Eldridge. Instead of supporting the contention that the state's attorney had been in a conspiracy to sell the decision of the supreme court in the Huddleston will case, the witnesses examined today took the position that Reaugh was actuated only by a desire to secure evidence against the conspirators.

Eldridge osered to introduce a statement made by Reaugh following the secret session of the supreme court and Reaugh objected. He declared with some bitterness that the conduct of the assistant attorney general was not honorable, at the same time saying that there was nothing in the statement which he was unwilling to have known. It detailed his transactions with Bradford, the alleged "go between" in the attempted sale of the court's opinion. Former Assistant Attorney General Monroe was the principal witness in the hearing today. He made an excellent witness for Reaugh, saying that he had understood all along that Reaugh was acting in the matter with a desire to trap the guilty parties and not as one of the conspirators.

It deveoped today that no effort has been made to apprehend Bradford. He has repeatedly returned to Clay county since he was cited for contempt, has disposed of his holdings there and has moved to Ohio. This feature of the case threatens to develop another scandal in connection with the matter.

CRIMINOLOGIST VICTIM OF HIS OWN PROFESSION

DENVER, Colo., July 11.—William James Patterson, one year ago a respected and prosperous physician, a university graduate, and a graduate in medicine from the Washington and Rush Medical schools, and an expert in criminology, lies a physical and mental wreck in the city jail, the victim of his too deep study into the ways and the work of criminals.

Only one qualification of this statement concerning himself does the once highly respected man make. This is that he would not have fallen had he not had the natural criminal instinct, which was undeveloped until his delving into criminology brought it to the surface.

"I'm a natural criminal. I couldn't be otherwise if I chose," he said when arrested for issuing a fraudulent check for $20. He scouts the idea of environment creating criminals.

"I'm a living example of a man with criminal instincts highly developed," he said. "I couldn't be straight if I wanted to. I would defraud people at a time when I did not need the money and had no possible reason for taking it other than to fill this natural craving.

"I studied criminology for nine years and went deeper into it than most men have. Nearly all the men convicted of crimes are criminals by nature. They really are not to blame for what they do. My own case shows that. I had no need or excuse for criminal action, but I had the trait in me and it had to be gratified.

"If a man is a criminal it will come out in any environment, and if he is naturally straight his environment isn't going to make any difference."

The attention of the prisoner was drawn to the noted work of MacDonald on "Criminology," the theory of which exactly agrees with his own.

"He doesn't get into it at all. He merely skims the surface. I tell you I have gone deep into these matters—too deep."

Patterson was arrested in April last for forgery committed in Kansas. At that time he was living with his wife and two children. Wealthy parents of Salina, Kas., rescued him from prison, but the quick repetition of the crime seems to demonstrate the truth of his statement that he cannot live straight.

Oppose Packers Candidate

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Representative Wadsworth of New York, who is chairman of the house committee on agriculture took a prominent part in the hearings on the meat inspection bill and aroused considerable adverse sentiment because his attitude was construed as friendly to the packing industry, is having a hard fight for renomination. Former State Senator F. C. Stevens is making a campaign against him based on Mr. Wadsworth's discord with the administration over the meat bills. The latest reports on the situation indicate, however, that Mr. Wadsworth will have a majority of thirty-five votes in the district convention.

Shopping-thrift is a virtue of gradual growth. As it becomes more and more a habit, the twin-habit of ad-reading keeps pace with it.

REPUBLICAN VIEWS OF COL. BRYAN.

A few republican newspapers, not great, but noisily prejudiced, have approached the subject of Mr. Bryan's candidacy with a narrow flippancy characteristic of unthinking journalists. Eminently unreasonable and coarse among these publications is the Chicago Chronicle, a paper prostituted by high-finance banker, John R. Welsh to the things for which this lofty citizen stands. Stung to a frenzy of resentment by the invitation extended by the Commercial Travelers' Anti-Trust league to President Roosevelt to meet Col. Bryan on his home-coming, the Chicago organ of unearned dividends exclaims:

> To invite the president to go to Madison Square garden to do honor to such a man is as absurd and insulting as if he were invited to preside at a dinner in honor of Lew Dockstader or at one of Carrie Nation's temperance meetings, or at a boxing bout.

That is one republican view of the Bryan candidacy. It is the narrow view of the stand-pat crowd. It is not, however, the view of sane republicans. Be it remembered that Senator La Follett has dared to say that "President Roosevelt is the only man who can beat Mr. Bryan." Here is what the strong, uncompromising, old-school republican Inter-Ocean says of the matter:

> William R. Hearst's direct refusal to be considered for the democratic presidential nomination in 1908 leaves a clear road for William Jennings Bryan.
>
> Aside from the remote possibility that the democratic party will get a new and sober soul in the next two years, it is now practically certain that the democratic candidate in 1908 will be William Jennings Bryan.
>
> This is the sitation which the republican party must face. And it is not a situation to be faced light-heartedly, under the delusion that it will be easy to master.
>
> It is true that Mr Bryan has twice led the democracy to defeats which left it a mob. But it is also true that Mr. Bryan has gained by the experience and the discipline of failure. He can talk more plausibly, argue more cogently, and lead more sagaciously than ever before.
>
> Mr. Bryan's directing thought is just as false and futile as ever. But upon the old foe of greenbackism, free silverism, socialism he now puts a new and fairer face.
>
> The enemy is known and the leader. The republican party must arm itself mentally and morally for hard battle.

That is a wise word of warning. The Inter-Ocean thus early advises its partisans that they will have to work to defeat Mr. Bryan. It concedes his strong personality, good citizenship and distinguished talent. It continues, of course, to call his "theories" falacious, but it is moved by a wise foresight to assume a position that from the republican standpoint may be called "giving the devil his due." Now, to come a little nearer home, take the following from the Milwaukee Sentinel, the stiffest of high-tariff stalwart newspapers in this section:

> Mr. Bryan's long and strong hold—despite political disasters that would have squelched the prestige in public life of almost any other man as thoroughly as Judge Parker's was squelched—on the esteem and loyalty of some millions of worthy and earnest people in this country is in itself evidence of some of the stuff of greatness in his makeup. Were Mr. Bryan a mere shallow ignoramus and blatant quack his hold on the faith of some 6,000,000 Americans would have gone by the board long ago. It would augur ill for popular government were it otherwise.
> Mr. Bryan of course has done nothing to warrant the ascription of statesmanship. He has had no chance. What he might do if given a chance is purely matter of conjecture. Most likely it will remain so. If the future is to be judged from the past many of his admirers would not carry their liking for him personally to the point of voting for him for president.

It is a far stretch to the bridge these papers are crossing before reaching. Nations may rise and fall before the new party crisis is reached. But the words of these newspapers are not wasted words; they are evidence of a wise foresight, of a disposition to squarely face a political situation in which the strength of the republican position will be put to a most trying test. It is a pleasing indication of a liberal expansion in American politics that these most intensely anti-innovation newspapers thus concede to their political antithesis strength and standing sufficient to constitute a formidable opposition.

AN HONORABLE COURT ON ICE.

The latest thing in ice trust sensations is the action of the attorney general of the United States in proceeding under the criminal code against the ice barons in the District of Columbia. And in Toledo they have sent the ice kings to jail—how'd you like to be the iceman? And in Cleveland, Dubuque, Kansas City and other Missouri towns, Springfield and who can remember how many other places, the machinery of the law is working overtime against the ice monopolists. Paradoxial as it may seem, it is getting too hot for the ice man.

A peculiar feature of the Toledo affair is that the gentlemen "of high respectability" composing the ice trust were prosecuted as vigorously as low-born criminals and were sentenced to jail as promptly as ordinary sneak thieves. That was a surprise. Not that it was unjust, but that it was unusual. People don't expect the same kind of justice that is cut out to fit the poor to be meted out to the rich; they don't expect it because history has taught them that it is not usually to be expected. The Milwaukee Free Press has analyzed this case that should be so ordinary and is so extraordinary, as follows:

> The five men who were convicted the other day in Toledo of a conspiracy to raise the price of ice and who were sentenced to pay a fine of $5,000, and to serve a term of one year's imprisonment in the workhouse, were all leading men, respected in the community, according to common report, and Mayor Whitlock of Toledo also says that they were "eminent citizens as the saying is."
>
> These eminent citizens were also of course represented by eminent counsel. Yet convicted of crime they were no more, no less, than other men, plain, ordinary citizens, who make no claims to eminence or to high business reputation. They had either been convicted or had pleaded guilty to violation of the law, and when the court pronounced sentence, the audience, we are informed, was stunned. Why?
>
> Many other convicted criminals had been tried and sentenced before and no one was "stunned." There were bigger and worse trusts, as Mayor Whitlock says, and as everyone knows, than the ice trust, which had repealed the law of supply and demand, and fixed prices to suit themselves.
>
> The sensation, then, was not that violators of the law should be punished, but that eminent violators of the law should be given a prison sentence. The impression has grown that the law, as administered, is not the same for the rich and the poor, the eminent and the lowly; and the community was shocked that men standing high in business and social life should be treated as ordinary, commonplace criminals are treated as a matter of course. The eminent Toledo gentlemen relied on precedent. They expected a fine, which they could pay without inconvenience. No wonder they were stunned when the System failed to work as they had every reason to suppose it would work.
>
> "In the courtroom that morning," says Mayor Whitlock, "were two personalities, one the judge, Reynold R. Kinkade, who had presided at the trial, received the subsequent plea of guilty, and pronounced that rude sentence, a sentence, by the way, tempered with justice—yes, justice, which does not always enter into the criminal courts—because Judge Kinkade intimated that if the ice men would restore their excessive profits and agree to disagree about prices in the future, he might modify his sentence and moderate some of its severities. The other personality was that of Lyman W. Wachenheimer, the prosecuting attorney of Lucas county, who had drawn the indictments (without the usual flaws) and and had prosecuted the indicted men just as if they belonged to what some people call the criminal classes, whatever that phrase may mean."
>
> The judge and the district attorney were not a part of the System. Judge Kinkade was free to represent the people. District Attorney Wachenheimer had been elected in Toledo, as District Attorney McGovern was elected in Milwaukee, in spite of the most strenuous opposition of the System, and, too, Mayor Whitlock tells us public opinion had been enlightened. There was a newspaper in Toledo which was controlled by no machine and which did not represent the exploiting class, which seeks in public contracts and public franchises to enrich private corporations and individuals at the expense of the public.
>
> "The conviction of the ice barons, as the reporters like to call them, shows what an independent people, with an independent press and independent officials, can do if they want to," says Mayor Whitlock. "It is enlightening, this little incident, this detail in the long evolution of a better time and a more just order. It is significant because it shows that the first step toward the solution of our problems is to give personality play, to put men in office who represent the people instead of the System. A free people with a free press and free officials will some day find the way out."

New York people are trying to figure out, through the columns of the Sun, how cold it is when it is twice as cold as 5 degrees above zero. What do Wisconsin people think about it?—Free Press.

They think it's colder than h—l, and that is something more to figure out.

It is noted that the "statement received by The Chronicle from Senator Frear," had the same typographical errors in it as the "statement received by the Leader-Press from Senator Frear," the night before.

Up state people are certain that La Crosse and Freeport will wind up the season in place and show, with Oshkosh under the wire three lengths away. We heard all about that last year.

The expected announcement of John A. Aylward's gubernatorial candidacy will give the democratic campaign more stability than it has enjoyed in recent years.

The real, graduated "bargain-hunter" learns to read the want ads as closely as the store ads.

The Davidson-Lenroot contest bids fair to become an international affair.

THE STATE PRESS

Senator La Follette has endorsed Roosevelt for the next republican nominee, the president in turn has endorsed Secretary Taft, and now if the latter has a mind to complete the circle he can pass the compliment along by endorsing the Wisconsin senator.—Oshkosh Northwestern.

Senator La Follette admits he shall exercise the right to take an active interest in Wisconsin politics. Of course, but is his exercise going to be merely a light calisthenics or of the extreme strenuous kind that will dominate the center of the stage at all times?—Eau Claire Leader.

The big new $40,000 dredge built the past year at Green Bay for the government came up Friday and is above the Berlin lock. She will dredge on the upper river in different places, we suppose. The dredge is built on new lines and is supposed to be the most efficient machine ever placed on these waters. If the government would spend the money used in river work in building a good hard road from Oshkosh to Portage it would do more general good.—Berlin Journal.

The fact that nothing was done looking to reform of tariff abuses—even the Philippine tariff bill being side-tracked—in itself gives a living issue for the autumn campaign between the two parties. This observation by the New York Herald is corroborated in New York, where Bourke Cockran made a ringing speech on the Fourth in arraignment of the G. O. (stand pat) party, and in our western states there will be effective illustration in congressional campaigns of the vicousness of economic policies which foster oppressive trusts, and raise to unbearable limits the cost of living.—Racine Times.

There is as great a need of intelligence in buying things as in any other line of daily routine and "shopping sense" is not a gift—it comes only to those who read ads.

WAUSAU FAN WANTS TO LICK POWERS; TO CONTINUE CLUB

Stormy Meeting of Fans Decides to Get More Money to Strengthen the "Tail-Ender" Team

A meeting of the directors of the Wausau baseball club was held in the office of Kretlow & Lamont last evening. The purpose of the meeting was to decide whethero r not to continue the team in the field for the balance of the season, says the Wausau Herald.

About twenty of the leading fans were in attendance. In the absence of the president, T. C. Ryan, Vice President John Sell presided. Otto Kaross was chosen secretary.

The treasurer's report showed that the club is pretty nearly "all in" financially. The total of receipts from all sources, including the subscription money, is $4,793.33; the balance of cash on hand is $14.87.

Of the amount subscrbed $1,417.50 has been collected. She outstandng amount is $458.50.

The sentiment of those present was in favort of keeping the team in the field. One of the stockholders expressed himself as disgusted with the way the tea mhas been managed during the past. The others overlooked that and were enthused with the prospects of getting the team strengthened, and sevedal volunteered donations of $25 and $50 as starters for a subscription list to be circulated among the business men. A committee to circulate the lists was appointed and will begin at once with its work. Upon the encouragement the committee receives depends the life of the Wausau team. The committee will make a report at another meeting to be held Friday evening.

The local fans seemed to have lost faith in John T. Powers of Chicago, the president of the league. One of the stockholders arraigned him in rather severe terms. In substance he spoke like this:

"I would like to take a fall out of the president of the league. He is a four-flusher. He is pushing the league along all right, but he is pulling it as well, and pulling it for all there is in it. I would like to have the satisfaction of telling him just what I think of him."

APOPLEXY CAUSE OF DEATH OF MRS. SUSAN HOAG

The ollowing, concerning the death of Mrs. Susan Hoag, mother of Rev. J. W. Hoag, pastor of the First Baptist church here, is taken from a Lansing, Mich., paper:

"Mrs. Susan Hoag, wife of William M. Hoag, of this city, died at the family residence, 535 Larch street north, yesterday at 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The immediate cause of death was apoplexy, a stroke of which she suffered Saturday morning. Mrs. Hoag had been in poor health for several months, since last Thanksgiving, in fact, when she suffered from an attack of heart failure. Since that time she has not been well, although not confined to her bed. Some time ago she went to visit her daughter, Mrs. L. D. Haulding at Brantford, Ont., returning five weeks ago. She appeared somewhat better until Saturday, when the shock that caused her death occurred.

"Mrs. Hoag was born in Brantford, Ont., Nov. 26, 1844, but has lived in this city with her family for many years. She was a member of the First Baptist church, and for years, until her health failed, was active in its work. She was well known through this and other activities to a large number of friends in Lansing. She is survived by her husband, William M. Hoag; her daughter, Mrs. Haulding, of Brantford, and two sons, Malcolm J. Hoag of this city, and Rev. John Wellington Hoag, pastor of the First Baptist church of La Crosse, Wis.

The funeral wil be held at 535 Larch street north, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'cloc. Rev. T. M. Lake will officiate.'

FAIR PROSPECTS LOOK BRILLIANT

The report of the entries, made by Secretary C. S. Van Auken to the Interstate Fair association directors last night, showed a big increase over last year.

The purpose of the meeting last night was to name the department superintendents.

Mr. Van Auken announced that the list of entries for the stake events exceeds the number of last year by 130. Some of the horses are noted for their speed and will come from Oklahoma, California and other western states.

Resoiling of the track and improvements of the grounds in general were ordered last night. A number of additional premiums in stock exhibits were voted by the directors. Five hundred dollars on Hereford cattle, $100 on Poland China swine, and $500 on short horned cattle were added.

GRIP THIEVES PAY HEAVY FINES

When arranged before Judge Brindley yesterday, Claude Hungerford and A. R. Burkett were able to pay a fine aggregating $67 apiece. The men were to all appearances tramps, and were arrested in Minneapolis charged with stealing a grip from P. L. Callahan, while on a train from Minneapolis to Tomah.

Judge Brindley assessed them $50 and costs each, amounting in all to $67. Burkett's fine was paid immediately, and Hungerford expects to have the money in a short time.

COL. HOLWAY'S SHOWING

THIRD REGIMENT PLEASES OLD WARRIORS AT CAMP

Change in Interpretation of Orders Governing Team for Sea Grit National Competition

(Tribune Special Service.)

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., July 11.—A misinterpretation of the meaning of general orders No. 11, issued from the adjutant general's office July 19, by practically every officer in the guard will mean a great change in the composition of the Sea Girt rifle team from what was expected after the order was read. The team will be selected the same as last year and will be picked from the men making the highest score in rifle camp. It was thought by most officers that the order intended to convey the meaning that the ten men qualifying for distinguished marksmen would be selected, and in addition to them the next five high, whether distinguished marksmen or not, would be picked to complete the team.

In speaking of the order yesterday morning Gen. Boardman said: "The order means just what it says. The fifteen high men in rifle camp will be selected to go to Sea Girt. There is no intention of selecting the high ten outside of the former distinguished marksmen, but all will have an equal chance, and the best riflemen will represent the state. The twelve high men outside of the distinguished marksmen will receive the decoration of distinguished marksmen, but will not be known as the state team, as heretofore." The misunderstanding no doubt was due to the fact that in the past the ten men outside of the distinguished marksmen making the highest score wre clased as the state team of that year.

Text of Puzzling Order

The part of the order which caused the misunderstanding reads: "The ten men maknig the state team for 1906, together with the next five high scores at the state competition, will constitute the state team of twelve principals and three alternates to represent the state at the national match to be held at Sea Girt, N. J., commencing Sept. 4, 1906."

The adjutant general's interpretation of the order will mean that a number who figured on making the state team and have a trip to the east will be left at home, while the old marksmen will be selected in their places, provided, of course, they can shoot with better results than those who receive their D. M. decoration this year for the first time. It was thought by many that it was the intention to give the younger and newer sots preference in the composition for the eastern team, so as to enthuse more nterest in rifle work among members of the guard at the expense of the showing made in the east. This was the opinion of Col. Holway, as well as the idea entertained by members and officers in the Second regiment.

New Ammunition Secured

Every effort is being made to get the Badger team in as good shape for the national match as possible. Maj. Williams has received 30,000 rounds of cartirdges of the same velocity that will be used at Sea Girt. They were loaded at the Frankfort arsenal May 16, 1906, and have a velocity at fifty-three feet of 1966, while the ammunition now in use has a velocity of 1958 at the same distance. The new ammunition will be used in rifle camp.

Four British micrometers have been purchased for the use of the marksmen. They are to enable the shooter to make a small change in the elevation of his sight. The instrument is so delicate that a change in the elevation of the sight of one two-hundredths of an inch can be made. The instrument clamps on the sight and by turning a thumb screw the change in elevation is made. It is impossible for any person to make as delicate a change by hand as is obtained by the use of the micrometer. Spotters five inches square are now being prepared for use in rifle camp. They are bound with a wire, which is placed in the hole made by the bullet, so as to indicate the exact position of the hit. The men making the Sea Girt team will be given considerable practice on the range here before going east.

The condition on the range for the Third battalion and Tenth separate battalion was somewhat better than yesterday. There was practically no wind whatever, although the light was changeable. Light clouds cast shadows over part of the range at times, while the balance of the way

Edna McClure Did Not Say Thaw Threatened to Kill his Victim

New York, July 11.—Harry Kendall Thaw, in the Tombs' prison, has given out his first formal statement since he shot and killed Stanford White in the Madison Square roof garden. In it the young man utters a protest against being regarded as insane, and declares his counsel assures him that no such course as the appointment of a commission to inquire into his mental condition is contemplated. The statement was handed by Thaw in person to the newspaper representatives. He gave it out with the permission of his counsel, with whom he pleaded all day to be allowed to deny in person the current reports as to his insanity, and especially the publication of a purported interview with one of his counsel quoting the attorney as saying the prisoner was undoubtedly insane.

Text of Thaw's Statement.

Young Thaw's statement follows: "I am informed by Mr. Olcott and Mr. Gruber that the interview with the latter in one of last evening's papers quoting him [Gruber] to the effect that I am now insane and that a lunatic commission would be appointed to demonstrate that fact has no foundation whatever; that Mr. Gruber never made such a statement and that no such course is contemplated. Mr. Olcott further tells me that he did not go to Philadelphia for the purpose of seeing or inquiring about Harriet Thaw or her alleged insanity; and that his visit had nothing whatever to do with the question of my mental condition or that of any member of my family."

Denied by Edna McClure.

Assistant District Attorney Garvan continued vigorously to prosecute his inquiry into the case, and had before him several prospective witnesses. Among them were James L. Lederer, of Philadelphia, who was manager of the "Wild Rose" theatrical company at the time Evelyn Nesbit, now Mrs. Thaw, was a member of the organization; May MacKenzie, an actress and friend of Mrs. Thaw, and Mary Leahy, Mrs. Thaw's maid. Nothing sensational developed. Edna McClure, the actress who was examined by Garvan Sunday afternoon, denied that she made many of the statements attributed to her in the newspapers, saying specifically that she did not tell the assistant district attorney of any threats she is supposed to have heard Thaw make against White.

NEW WITNESS IN THE CASE

May Be a Good Substitute for the Dead Valet, Bedford.

Pittsburg, July 11.—It is learned here that a witness who will appear in the Thaw case when it comes to trial in New York will be Paul Dorn, of Wilkinsburg, a suburb of this city, who Harry Thaw took to Europe several years ago, and who returned alone two months after sailing. Dorn when seen would say little about his connection with Thaw, but did say that he sailed May 26 and returned on July 19. He would not say why he returned so soon when he expected to remain all summer, nor give any details of his visit abroad.

Dorn also said he had been instructed to keep his mouth shut, and not to say a word until he had heard from Thaw's attorneys. When asked when he expected to go to New York Dorn said: "I don't know. But I am ready to go whenever Mrs. Thaw is willing to give me an interview, and I won't talk, either in the court or out of it, until I have seen her."

"Did you ever meet Bedford, the valet, whom Harry Thaw engaged at Southampton?" "Yes, I did, and it is too bad that Bedford died."

Dorn was asked what he meant by that and replied: "Well, he was a good fellow, and if he had lived and had to tell all the things he knew it would not look so rosy for Harry Thaw."

"How do you know that Bedford knew all these things?" "Well, wasn't I there?"

Dorn said that Thaw had written to him frequently, but he would not state whether he had saved the letters. "I will go to New York," said Dorn, "and tell what I know, and it won't take very long to do it; but it will be enough. I know I shall be in it, and will be ready when I am called upon."

DOCTOR'S SHIFT

Now Gets Along Without It.

A physician says: "Until last fall I used to eat meat for my breakfast and suffered with indigestion until the meat had passed from the stomach.

"Last fall I began the use of Grape-Nuts for breakfast and very soon found I could do without meat, for my body got all the nourishment necessary from the Grape-Nuts and since then I have not had any indigestion and feeling better and have increased in weight.

"Since finding the benefit I derived from Grape-Nuts I have prescribed the food for all of my patients suffering from indigestion or over-feeding and also for those recovering from disease where I want a food easy to take and certain to digest and which will not overtax the stomach.

"I always find the results I look for when I prescribe Grape-Nuts. For ethical reasons please omit my name." Name given by mail by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The reason for the wonderful amount of nutriment, and the easy digestion of Grape-Nuts is not hard to find.

In the first place, the starchy part of the wheat and barley goes through various processes of cooking, to perfectly change the starch into Dextrose or Post Sugar, in which state it is ready to be easily absorbed by the blood. The parts in the wheat and barley which Nature can make use of for rebuilding brain and nerve centres are retained in this remarkable food, and thus the human body is supplied with the powerful strength producers so easily noticed after one has eaten Grape-Nuts each day for a week or 10 days. "There's a reason."

Gov. Davidson arrived in camp yesterday afternoon. He looked over the buildings late in the afternoon in company with Quartermaster General Hodgins and last night reviewed the troops. It was the intention of Gen. Boardman to have the commander in chief present each regiment with a regimental flag, but they failed to arrive in time to enable the prsentation to be made last night. It is thought they will be here today.

Gov. Davidson absolutely refused to discuss political matters. He said it might appear that he was here in his own political interest if he talked about the situation in the state and that he did not care to have such an impression get out. His one object in coming was to see the regiment and look over the reservation.

He spoke highly of the condition he found things in and of the many improvements which have been made by Maj. Williams. Gov. Davidson remained at general headquarters during the evening and departed at midnight to attend the funeral of the late Congressman Adams. He listened attentively to Gen. King's speech on the honor of a soldier and then received a few callers.

Most of Regiment in Camp

The morning report showed that nearly 96 per cent of the Third regiment is in camp today. There are forty-eight officers and 798 men present for duty, with three officers and thirty-three men absent. That number, however, is considerable above the maximum strength allowed by law, several of the companies having seventy men or over on the rolls. One company has seventy-nine, eleven more than the maximum strength. When based on the maximum strength Col. Holway had 97 per cent of his command present.

Chaplain Butters will tonight present a vaudeville show, using the band stand for a stage. He was unanimously requested by the first sergeants yesterday morning to arrange for the entertainment, and immediately set to work securing talent from among the soldiers for the affair.

LEWIS CAN USE MAILS

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The postmaster general has withdrawn the fraud order and permits E. C. Lewis in his personal capacity to use the mails. The order stands against the peoples' United States banks.

Miss Mabel Simenson and Mrs. T. Bergerson of Kane street have returned from a few days' visit with friends at Rockland.

SULTAN OBJECTS TO OUR CONSTANTINOPLE CONSUL

Constantinople, July 11. — Instructions have been sent to the Turkish minister at Washington, Chekib Bey, to renew his efforts to dissuade the authorities at Washington from carrying out the proposed elevation of the legation here to the status of an embassy. It appears that when the Turkish government was notified that the United States desired to effect the change Chekib Bey was ordered to oppose the project, but replied that he was unable to shake the determination of the state department. He has been instructed to inform the department that the proposed action requires a previous agreement between the countries, which has not been effected in the present case.

Sultan Within His Rights.

Washington, July 11. — The state department has not yet been advised of the existence of any opposition on the part of the Turkish government to the erection of the United States legation at Constantinople into an embassy. Of course if the sultan declines to receive Leishman in the capacity of ambassador under the credentials he now holds he is acting perfectly within his rights. But it is certain that such a course will not tend to the strengthening of the relations between the United States and Turkey, because in the view of the officials here it will amount to a distinct discrimination against the United States and in favor of the great European powers now all represented by ambassadors at the porte.

Result Is an Obstruction.

These ambassadors have, by right of their office, personal access to the sultan at any moment. The United States minister, and the other ministers, in fact, must do business through the Porte entirely, and on the rare occasions when they gain access to the person of the sultan they are obliged to wait many weeks for the opportunity. The result is a very real obstruction and embarrassment in the transaction of business, so that the state department is not likely to receive graciously any protests against the reception of Leishman's ambassadorial credentials.

Explains Turkey's Objections.

It is true that much of this business has related to the presentation of claims of citizens of the United States against Turkey, but if the government of that country cherishes the idea that these are to be further obstructed by a refusal to allow them to be presented through an ambassador it is probable that the state department will be obliged to respond by charging the diplomatic representative at Constantinople, even though he remain in the grade of minister, to press these claims with an energy inheretfore unknown the course of the negotiations.

Chekib Bey Gives His View.

Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister to this country, stated that no instructions had been received by him from his government to delay the steps taken for the elevation of the United Staes tlegation at Constantinople to an embassy. "My government is as desirous to be adequately represented through an embassy at Washington as is the United States through an embassy at Constantinople," he said. "The question has long been pending, and Turkey has previously signified her willingness to take the step whenever financial and other conditions enabled her to do so."

KANSAS CITY ICE TRUST HUNT

Kansas City, July 11.—Evidence of the existence of an ice trust, which, it is alleged, controls the local output is being sought in an investigation begun here by the county prosecutor. The investigation has resulted from a movement to put out of business the concerns belonging to the supposed combine, which, it is charged, demands $10 a ton of the smaller consumer for ice that costs $1.50.

H. L. Burke, secretary of the People's Ice, Storage and Fuel company, testined that his company had contracted for the output of other concerns and that it would be difficult for these companies to furnish a supply to competitors without violating their contracts with his company. "In fact," he said, "they would not dare to do it."

Our Jackies Best Fed.

Washington, July 11.—In the last naval appropration act provision was made for a change in the naval ration and the bureau of supplies and accounts has prepared one in accordance with this legislation. It is asserted that the United States navy has a better ration than any other army or navy in the world. It is very flexible and makes it unnecessary to issue commutations to sailors in place of a regular ration. Added to the former menu are preserved and fresh fruits, fresh milk, flavoring extracts, fresh fish and sauce.

TROLLEY AND AUTO COLLIDE

Newark, N. J., July 11. — While turning a corner at Main and Harrison streets, East Orange, in their forty-horse-power touring car Walter F. Harris, president of the Newark Rivet works, of 133 Fairview avenue, South Orange, with his wife and four young children, collided with a west-bound trolley car, and as the two vehicles, traveling at a lively speed, crashed together head-on the entire party was tumbled into the roadway and the automobile was wrecked.

Fortunately for the occupants but one sustained any serious hurts. Miss Ruth Harris was badly bruised and the other occupants of the vehicle got hurts less serious. Miss Nettie Miller, of Newark, a passenger in the trolley car, was given a jar owing to the suddenness with which the car was brought to a stop. No one was seriously hurt.

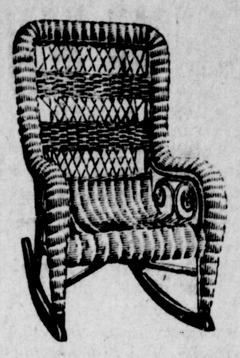

Walcott Still the Champion.

Boston, July 11.—Joe Walcott, of Boston, retained the welterweight championship of the world by knocking out Jack Dougherty, of Milwaukee, in the eighth round at the Lincoln Athletic club in Chelsea.

Perisho Gets the Office

Paris, Ill., July 11.—The quo warranto proceedings to oust Joseph Perisho from the office of school director has ended in the circuit court confirming his right thereto. Perisho defeated Henry Sisson in the election last spring by one vote. In the quo warranto proceedings was alleged that one of the votes counted for Perisho was cast by his niece, a girl under legal age, and the petitioners asked to have this vote rejected, leaving the result a tie.

The defense admitted the illegality of the vote, but set up the counter claim that Miss Jones, a teacher, who was not a legal resident, voted for Sisson. This proved to be correct. The court thereupon declared that both tickets were unlawful, and that they did not affect the result.

Chance to Hit Mob Law

Evansville, Ind., July 11. — Oliver Bryant, a coal miner, while intoxicated tried to whip his wife, but her screams attracted the attention of neighbors, and they formed a mob, took Bryant from his home and beat him with clubs so severely that he died in a few hours.

Warrants were sworn out for a number of men who participated in the attack upon him. A. J. Gleich, a farmer and fruit grower, was arrested and is in jail on a charge of murder. Harry Linnville, a blacksmith, is also in jail on a similar charge, and others will be arrested. Gleich says that it was not the purpose of the mob to kill Bryant, but simply to punish him for beating his wife.

Grannis' Methods Complained by Mutual Company

New York, July 11. — Complaints have been served in the suits brought by the Mutual Life Insurance company against Robert S. Grannis, ex-vice president and trustee, and Walter R. Gillette, ex-treasurer and trustee, of the company. It is alleged against Grannis that he omitted to scrutinize vouchers which were submitted to him, and negligently and carelessly approved many vouchers which represented money paid for services not authorized. The damages suffered by the company because of these acts amounted, it is alleged, to $200,000.

Bill Foots Up Near a Million.

In another cause of action against Grannis it is charged that he participated in the making of payments out of the assets of the company aggregating the sum of $92,500 to defray the expenses of campaign contributions to political parties. Altogether five causes of action against Grannis are set forth, and the total amount for which judgment is asked against him is $917,500, with interest. It is alleged that the ex-vice president participated in an arrangement by which money was taken out of the assets of the company to establish a so-called "confidential" fund, which was expended for objects not within the corporate purposes of the company and beyond its lawful powers.

Charges Against Gillette.

The complaint against Gillette alleges that he received from time to time large sums of money as to which no entries appear in the books of account or other records of the company; that he made expenditures out of these moneys, the items of which are for the most part unknown to the plaintiff; that he paid over about $8,000 alleged to be the balance remaining in his hands, and that he never submitted an account of the expenditures made by him.

APPROVE CANTEEN

NEWARK, N. J., July 11.—At the convention of the German-American Gymnastic alliance Philip Rappaport, an attorney of Indianapolis, yesterday presented a resolution, which was adopted unanimously, that the convention approves the action of the executive board in protesting against the prohibition of canteens in soldiers' homes, and expresses its sorrow that the protest was not heeded by congress. The resolution continues:

"We consider the measure an act of useless cruelty and tyranny against the veterans who risked their life and limbs for the preservation of the union and are beyond the age of education. We are of the opinion that the action of congress is not due to any motives of conscience and morality, but partly to blind and unreasonable faith in worthless and dangerous dogmas and theories controlling sound reason and every sense of justice and partly to political cowardice."

The most important work today was the selection of Cincinnati as the place of meeting two years hence and the abrogation of a rule by which Indianapolis remains the headquarters of the executive board.

GOWN GOSSIP.

This is eminently a color season, despite the popularity of gray.

Chiffon veils are very popular still. Net and lace and many fancy combinations are seen.

With many linen skirts will be worn short or three-quarters coats entirely of lace and embroidery. These are truly elegant garments and very expensive.

Newer than the lace coats are the little silk jackets and coats. Most of these are boleros with short, fancy sleeves and sometimes with no sleeves at all.

With almost all street and promenade gowns are worn net or lace boas or ruffs. These are very beautiful, very becoming and very costly, since they are by nature perishable. It is quite the thing to have hat, boa and parasol to match.

Plaids are very popular for separate skirts. Many sun plaited models are shown. They are becoming somewhat common, as they are cheaply produced and easy to obtain, but aside from this objection they are about as attractive as separate skirts can be.—New York Post.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is not too early to sound a note of warning against the toy pistol.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Dr. Lyman Abbott declares that ideals in America are high. So is everything else. This seems to be one of the inevitable results of prosperity.—Chicago Post.

San Francisco is already rebuilding, but it is safe to say that the first completed work of reconstruction will be the setting up of new Mergenthalers and printing presses.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

The pardon of convicts to restore citizenship should be abandoned except in rare instances. The man who has lost his citizenship and the right to vote through the commission of crime deserves to suffer the penalty, unless it can be shown that he has suffered unjustly or too severely.—Little Rock Democrat.

THE WRITERS.

H. G. Wells, the author, is visiting Washington. He will spend much time there making a study of the workings of the government.

Lucy Copinger, the writer of the child sketches which have attracted the attention of grownup readers, is a Baltimore schoolteacher.

Clark Russell, who may almost be credited with having created the sea novel and certainly the only writer who ever fittingly described the sea, has about decided to stop writing. For years he has been an invalid, suffering terribly from rheumatic affliction.

Thomas Hardy used to live, when he was a boy, with an aunt, and he was sometimes called upon to write love letters for her dairymaids to send to their sweethearts. In his novels he has made good use of his experience in the dairy, and his aunt was the original of one of his characters.

Richmond, Va., July 11.—Samuel T. Morgan, president of the Virginia Carolina Chemical company; Fortescue Whittle, one of the managing directors, and J. Rice Smith, a sales agent of the corporation, under indictment for alleged violation of the Sherman law, were before Judge Widdill in the United States district court. The proceedings are in the nature of extradition cases. Edward T. Stanford, of Knoxville, who is prosecuting, desires to remove them to the middle district of Tennessee for trial.

Digging Up Dead Indians.

Watertown, N. Y., July 11.—In the vicinity of the village of Rodman, in this county, they are digging up the remains of a prehistoric people who were possibly an Indian tribe and had their village near by. Within a few days eighteen skeltons have been unearthed on the farm of Homer J. Heath. Raymond Harrington, field archaeologist for the Peabody museum of Harvard university, has been directing the excavation work in a hillside pasture. The bones will be placed in the museum.

Sir Thomas Lipton at Chicago.

Chicago, July 11.—Sir Thomas Lipton, of London, has arrived at Chicago from Milwaukee. The length of the visit has not yet been settled, but it is hoped by Chicago yachtmen that he can stay during the races for the Lipton cup. Sir Thomas spent the afternoon as the guest of one of the local yacht clubs. He was entertained by the members of the Chicago Yacht club at a theater at night.

Baked Apples.

A Pennsylvania housewife cooks her "baked apples" on top of the stove. She cores them and places them in a covered pan with enough water to prevent them from burning. She then lets them cook until partly done, sprinkles them with sugar and cinnamon and puts them in the oven to finish cooking. This is a good method for the busy housewife.

Green Bay, 3; Wausau, 2. (Thirteen innings.)

Oshkosh, 9; Freeport, 1.

Games Today.

No games scheduled.

Games Tomorrow.

La Crosse at Tau Claire.

Freeport at Green Bay.

Wausau at Oshkosh.

Eau Claire hit Schneiberg regularly yesterday and gave Eberle perfect suport, yet was defeated on earned runs because the locals bunched five of their six hits in one inning. The game was a fast one throughout, and while Eau Claire had nine hits to six for La Crosse and no erors, La Crosse had two the score was 5 to 2 in favor of the champs. Score:

Batteries—Schneiberg and Killian; Eberle and Asmussen.

Teams Rest Today

The teams of the state league will take a rest today, but will reopen another series tomorrow.

There has been some talk of the Wausau team disbanding, but it is not thought likely that the team will be permitted to disband before the end of the season. Wausau has been in bard luck and for a long time has needed strengthening. The fans of that city have started a subscription list among the business men of Wausau for the purpose of raising funds sufficient to hire players who will start after the pennant with some hope of success.

Oshkosh, 9; Freeport, 1

OSHKOSH, Wis., July 11.—Bies, the Menasha phenomenon of the Fox River Valley league, was exploded here yesterday afternoon. He started to pitch the game for Freeport, but after five runs had been made off his delivery he was retired, and Moriarity finished the game. Erickson, catcher for Freeport, was struck on the leg by a foul and may be laid up indefinitely. Score:

FRISCO RISK MEN CLAIM SWINDLES

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Detectives of the insurance companies claim that the policyholders have swindled the insurance companies out of nearly $250,000 by false affidavits of loss. Within a short time the grand jury will be called upon to make a sweeping investigation and indictments by the score are likely to follow.

Fire Marshal Charles Towe and several private detective agencies have been working on the matter for the last two weeks. More than 150 claimants will fall under the shadow of indictment and will have to fight to escape the stripes.

Most of the frauds, it is alleged, were perpetrated by storekeepers in the tenderloin section. They saved many of their goods and then collected insurance.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The position of the Williamsburg Fire Insurance company with reference to claims growing out of the San Francisco disaster was outlined yesterday by President Marshall S. Driggs of the company. Mr. Driggs' statement was called forth by the announcement from San Francisco that policyholders in that city had organized as a corporation to sue his company for their recent losses, the company having declined to pay on the ground that it had a clause exempting it from earthquake liability. The San Francisco policyholders claim that this clause was added only a couple of years ago, and without their knowledge.

"It is true that the earthquake clause was added only two years ago," said Mr. Driggs, "and that some of the policyholders may not have noticed it, but if they did not read their policies that is not our fault.

"Of course, the ground will be taken that the earthquake clause does not apply, because it was not earthquake but fire that caused the damage," said he. "We are advised by our counsel, however, that, as long as the earthquake was the primary cause, we are not liable."

BLACKMAILING LAWYER FREED

NEW YORK, July 11.—Governor Higgins several days ago commuted the sentence of Thomas P. Wickes, the New York lawyer who was sentenced to a year's imprisonment upon conviction of blackmail in the writing of the notorious "Lewis Jarvis" letters. In these letters he sought, it is alleged, to secure advantages in legal business by writing letters about himself, signing them with the name of "Lewis Jarvis."

Governor Higgins was not in Albany, but his secretary, Frank E. Perley, said that Wickes' sentence had been commuted last week so as to effect his immediate release from prison. The names of those who recommended Wickes' commutation are withheld, but it is said that they include men prominent in New York legal circles, including the district attorney. Mr. Perley said that Wickes' friends had secured a prominent business opening in Alaska, and that the governor's action was made conditional upon his going there.

"Bargains" are ground out by the "mills of competition." The French say: "A good bargain is a pick-purse." It is nearer the truth to say that the bargain-hunter (the ad. reader) is purse-cautious.

MUST ANSWER FOR PUGILIST'S DEATH

LA SALLE, Ill., July 11.—The coroner's jury in the inquest over the body of Charles Greenberg, the Chicago pugilist who died after a contest with Eddie Tancel, also of Chicago, yesterday returned a verdict saying the death was the result of injuries received during the fight, and holding Tancel and Manual Greenberg, brother of the dead pugilist, and the one who acted as his manager, to the grand jury. No mention was made of the others promoting the contest.

Following the verdict of the coroner's jury, however, all of those who previously had been held for being connected with the promotion of the fight were arrested on the charge of manslaughter. They were: James Bardell, referee; James Ross, Tancel's second; T. Jones, club matchmaker; and Howard Carr, Tancel's manager.

State's Attorney C. S. Cullen is dissatisfied with the verdict of the coroner's jury, which, he says, is an attempt to whitewash, and this evening he declared that every one connected with the affair, either directly or indirectly, would be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. He intimated that other arrests would follow shortly.

Park for Cupid

KENOSHA, Wis., July 9.—John Petersen, a well known Danish resident, has opened "Reform park." No intoxicants will be sold within the confines of the breathing spot, but special attention will be given to youthful lovers, for whom Petersen has provided several secluded nooks. He says he hopes to promote matrimony in Kenosha.

Soda Fountain Drinks

Are largely composed of chemical concoctions (colored with coal-tar dyes) and often work havoc with the human stomach, causing dyspepsia, heartburn, and "drying up of the blood," whereas a rich natural barley brew like

Gund's Peerless Beer

Acts as a tonic and aids digestion, enriches the blood wonderfully and promotes the health and longevity of men and women. Peerless is really a temperance drink, because it never contains more than 3½% of alcohol—not enough to hurt anyone.

Dr. I. M. P. Southwick, La Grange, N. C., says: "I do not think the moderate use of good beer injurious to the health of adults. I believe it to be a great benefit to some people both as a beverage and by aiding digestion and assimilation. I think beer is of food value to the human organism."

Peerless is brewed from choicest barley malt and the very finest hops, by the celebrated Gund Natural Process. This process retains and develops the strength of the grain and the fragrance of the aromatic hops in a most wonderful way.

Peerless is bottled at the brewery only. Delivered anywhere in cases. Sold at all high-grade bars, restaurants and dining cars. A splendid home beer. Telephone a trial order. You never tasted a more delicious brew. Sparkling, wholesome, pleasant and pure.
